

The researchers, professors, graduate students and R&D administrative staffs are main target audiences. We are expecting international participants as well. The domestic audiences can be not less than 50-70 and some 10-20 international participants can also be expected.

Expected Outcome or Recommendations from the Session

This session will play role in seeding joint action on e-science in Asia starting it within the Science Council of Asia. It should be reached common understanding as e-Science enables scientists to generate, analyze, share and discuss their insights, experiments and results in a more effective manner. Participants will be able to understand that it enables sharing of expensive equipment, scientific instruments, computing resources, or key databases of scientific information throughout Asia. Recommendations will be issued on joint actions on E-Science in Asia.
