

International Symposium: Fifty Years after IGY

- Modern Information Technologies and Earth and Solar Sciences -

Date: November 10-13, 2008

Venue:

National Institute of Advanced Industrial
Science and Technology Tsukuba, Ibaraki, Japan

Deadline:

July 10, 2008 (Submission),
Oct 31, 2008 (Pre-Registration)

Participation fees:

20,000 yen (Pre-registration)
30,000 yen (On-site registration)
5,000 yen (Student, Senior)
30,000 yen (Exhibition)

URL: <http://wdc2.kugi.kyoto-u.ac.jp/igy50/>

Topics:

- Advances and problems in observational and modeling studies of Earth and Solar sciences since IGY
- Scientific perspectives of collaboration and cooperation in, between, and outside I*Ys.
- New I*Y activities and sciences enabled by new information and network systems
- Outreach, education, and data center systems for I*Y sciences using information and communications technology

Sponsored by:

Science Council of Japan/ IYPE/ IPY/ STPP(IHY)/ eGY/
WDC/ SCOSTEP/ CODATA

Supported by:

Japan Society for the Promotion of Science/ JSPS
Core-to-Core Program/ Inoue Foundation of Science

Co-sponsored by:

National Institute of Advanced Industrial Science and Technology
National Institute of Information and Communications Technology
National Institute of Polar Research
The Graduate University for Advanced Studies
Space Environment Research Center, Kyushu University
Disaster Prevention Research Institute, Kyoto University
Research Institute for Sustainable Humanosphere, Kyoto University
Solar-Terrestrial Environment Laboratory, Nagoya University
Society of Geomagnetism and Earth, Planetary and Space Sciences
Graduate School of Science, Kyoto University

Organizing Committee:

Masaru Kono (Chair, Member of Science Council of Japan)
Natsuo Sato (IPY)
Toshihiko Iyemori (eGY)
Eikichi Tsukuda (IYPE)
Kiyohumi Yumoto (STPP(IHY))
Takashi Watanabe (WDC)
Shuichi Iwata (CODATA)
Toshitaka Tsuda (SCOSTEP)