

Theme 2

Qingguo Jia

Professor, Associate Dean, School of International Studies, Peking University, China

► Educational Background

B.A. (equiv.)	English, Peking Institute of Foreign Languages, 1981
M.A.	Government, Cornell University, 1984
Ph. D.	Government, Cornell University, 1988

► Professional Experience

1999 - Present	Associate Dean, School of International Studies, Peking University
1996 - Present	Professor, School of International Studies, Peking University
2001 - 2002	Fellow, Northeast Asia Program, the Brookings Institution
1998 - 1999	Visiting Professor, University of Vienna
1994 - 1996	Associate Professor, Department of International Politics, Peking University
1992 - 1994	Lecturer, Department of Government and Public Administration, The University of Sydney
1991 - 1992	Research Fellow, Institute on Global Conflict and Co-operation, University of California
1991 - 1992	Visiting Associate Professor, Graduate School of International Relations and Pacific Studies
1990 - 1991	Visiting Assistant Professor, Department of Government, Cornell University
1989	Associate Professor, Institute of International Relations, Peking University
1988 - 1989	Research Fellow and Lecturer, Institute of International Relations, Peking University
1987	Visiting Assistant Professor, Department of Political Science, University of Vermont
1985 - 1986	Research Fellow, Foreign Policy Program, The Brookings Institution
1979 - 1981	Teacher, Department of English, Beijing Foreign Language Institute

► Field of Study

International Politics