

Opening Remarks

Kiyoshi Kurokawa

President
Science Council of Japan
Japan

Educational Background

Graduated. The University of Tokyo, College of Sciences, Tokyo, 1958
M.D. The University of Tokyo, School of Medicine, Tokyo, 1962

Professional Experience (Including Position)

2004 - Present Adjunct Professor, Research Institute of Science and Technology, Tokai University, Adjunct Professor, Research Center for Advanced Science and Technology, The University of Tokyo

2003 - Present President of the Science Council of Japan

2002 - 2004 Director and Professor, The Institute of Medical Science, Tokai University

1997 - Present Professor Emeritus, The University of Tokyo

1996 - 2002 Dean and Professor of Medicine, Tokai University, School of Medicine

1989 - 1996 Professor and Chairman, First Department of Medicine, The University of Tokyo, Faculty of Medicine, Tokyo

1983 - 1989 Associate Professor of Medicine, Fourth Department of Medicine,
The University of Tokyo, Faculty of Medicine, Tokyo

1979 - 1985 Professor of Medicine, Department of Medicine, UCLA School of Medicine

1977 - 1979 Associate Professor of Medicine, Department of Medicine, UCLA School of Medicine

1974 - 1977 Associate Professor of Medicine, Department of Medicine,
University of Southern California, School of Medicine, Los Angeles, CA.

1973 - 1974 Assistant Professor of Medicine, Department of Medicine, UCLA School of Medicine

1971 - 1974 Senior fellow, Cedars-Sinai Medical Center and Department of Medicine,
UCLA, School of Medicine, Los Angeles, CA.

1969 - 1971 Research Associate, Department of Biochemistry,
University of Pennsylvania, School of Medicine, Philadelphia, PA.

1962 - 1969 Internship, residency, fellowship, and junior staff in medicine and nephrology,
First Department of Medicine, The University of Tokyo, Faculty of Medicine

Field of Study

Clinical Medicine, Metabolic Disorders