

AASSA-SCJ Workshop on Role of Science for Inclusive Society
Declaration

Based on the discussions at the AASSA-SCJ Workshop on Role of Science for Inclusive Society, which was held in Tokyo, the following Declaration is made by the participants of this workshop on 2 March, 2017.

1. In order to realise an inclusive society, scientists should pay more attention to diversity in society when they undertake scientific research.
2. Scientists should cooperate beyond the existing frameworks and deepen their research objectives.
3. It is important for scientists to conduct scientific research in Asia with a long-term view and vision of society.
4. In order to make accelerated advancement of science and technology more useful for social progress, the freedom of science and appropriate science communication are necessary.
5. Science in Asia and beyond should ensure inclusiveness in contributing to the realisation of the United Nations Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs).
